

Hear For You supports the work you do with deaf or hard of hearing teenagers

We make the here and now more manageable.

We help deaf teens develop their everyday life skills.

We support deaf teens in a way no one else can.

Our staff and mentors have lived experience of hearing loss and are part of a community created to support deaf or hard of hearing teens living in a hearing world.

Our workshops cover stuff like:

- The best ways to communicate in a hearing world
- Confidence, and how to build more of it
- Challenges that come with studying (and school in general)
- Tuning into teenagers' mental health
- Dealing with stigma, ignorance and bullying
- Career options and making plans post-school
- Relationships with family and friends
- Dealing with devices and technology.

Put the future in clear focus.

Contact us for more information and how teens may be eligible for NDIS funding for our workshops.
